ABOUT THE OPPORTUNITY

Now is the time to come and work for Rotherham Council's Culture, Sport and Tourism Services.

We are at the start of a new chapter in Rotherham's history with a visionary ambition to transform our events, activities and destinations and make them world-class. We have established a dynamic new leadership team to drive forward the development of our parks and green spaces, libraries, heritage sites, the Civic Theatre, music hub, learning services and events. Deeply-loved by our customers, we want to bring more wow to our work and welcome new residents and visitors alike, particularly children and young people.

Through our new Cultural Partnership, we are working with partners in the voluntary and private sectors, including Wentworth Woodhouse, Gulliver's, Rotherham United and Grimm and Co, to oversee the development of an exciting offer which strengthens Rotherham's distinctiveness and repositions the borough as a high-quality, family-friendly destination. Our collective mission is to enable all our residents to get active, creative and outdoors, more often.

The service has recently produced a new Forward Plan which places children, young people and families at the heart of its offer.

You will be:

- A seasoned museum and/or arts professional with a track record of achievement
- Committed to co-creation and new forms of engagement with communities, particularly those with limited experience of heritage and the arts
- Experienced in driving and managing change and committed to getting the best out of staff and volunteers.

If you'd like to speak to Polly Hamilton, Assistant Director (Culture, Sport and Tourism) to learn more about the service and the role then please e-mail polly.hamilton@rotherham.gov.uk and we'll arrange for Polly to contact you.

In joining Rotherham's Culture Sport and Tourism team at this extraordinary time, you will be instrumental in the drive to increase participation and strengthen our financial sustainability. And in doing so, you will show how culture, leisure and tourism can build civic pride, improve health, strengthen community cohesion, develop the local economy and transform perceptions. This is your chance to help write the next instalment in Rotherham's story.

Heritage and Arts Manager: You will oversee the development, promotion and operational management of the Heritage, Museums, Archives and Visual Arts Services, including all associated facilities, sites and collections. The service has responsibility for numerous heritage sites including Catcliffe Glass Cone, Keppel's Column, Waterloo Kiln (site of Rockingham Pottery) and Boston Castle, to name but a few. The Clifton Park Museum, a former Museum of the Year winner, was the home of the illustrious Walker family and highlights the history of the borough. New partnerships have enabled the acquisition of a long term loan of Wallinger's Ghost and engagement in the development of public art for Rotherham town centre, setting the benchmark for a new programme of contemporary art to develop the fine art collection and extend the museum's reach and civic role.
